JULY 2026

June Into July

At the start of June we learned about our classroom and each other. We took a trip to the local fire and police departments and learned about their jobs. Everyone had fun playing Red Light, Green Light and were occasionally thrown off when random colors were shouted. During our second week we had fun playing tic-tac-toe flip, trying to move a cookie from our forehead to our mouth without our hands, seeing if we could drop pennies in a submerged cup, and building a bridge out of popsicle sticks and two pieces of string. The third week was spent around the world where we played ancient games from Africa, made Guatemalan worry dollars, and enjoyed mango lassi and guasacaca. The last week we found out which objects from our classroom would float and which would sink, made a water tornado that we loved playing with, played drip drop splash, and discovered what organisms we can find in our local pond. We loved using a microscope to observe the daphnia that were found.
